Key Factors affecting your FICO® Score

1. Serious delinquency, and public record or collection filed: FICO® Scores consider the presence of both a public record or collection and a serious delinquency on a person's credit report as a powerful predictor of future payment risk. Your score was impacted because your credit report shows a public record or collection in addition to a delinquency or some other serious derogatory indicator, such as a bankruptcy, on your credit report.

2. Proportion of balances to credit limits on bank/national revolving or other revolving accounts is too high: As one of the most important score factors, FICO® Scores evaluate account balances in relation to credit limit on revolving and/or open-ended accounts. Your score was impacted because your proportion of balances to credit limits on these accounts is too high.

Information about Your First PREMIER Bank Credit Account
Refer to your Account Opening Disclosures and/or Credit Card Contract for an explanation of how the following fees are calculated and applied.
Annual Fee (if applicable): Refer to the front of your Statement in the month in which the fee is billed. See 'Annual Notice on your Credit Account' below for information on avoiding this fee.
Additional Card Fee (if applicable): Refer to the front of your Statement in the month in which the fee is billed. See 'Annual Notice on your Credit Account' below for information on avoiding this fee.
Monthly Fee (billed monthly if applicable): Refer to the front of your statement in the month in which the fee is billed. See 'Annual Notice on your Credit Account' below for information on avoiding this fee.
Foreign Currency Transaction Fee (if applicable): 3% of the transaction amount in US dollars.
Annual Notice on your Credit Account (for applicable fees): You can have the current billing of the Annual Fee credited to your Credit Account if you close your Credit Account within 30 days from the mailing or delivery of the statement containing the fee, even if you use your Card during that period. You may call the Customer Service number or write to the Customer Service address on the front of your Statement during this 30 day period and your Credit Account will be closed and the Annual Fee will be credited. You can have the current billing of the Additional Card Fee credited to your Credit Account, if within 30 days from the mailing or delivery of the statement containing the fee, you have the Authorized User removed from the account or call to close your account, even if you use your Card during that period. You can avoid billing of the Monthly Fee by closing your Credit Account and reducing the balance to $20 or less. Under certain circumstances, the Annual Fee, Monthly Fee and/or Additional Card Fee may not bill due to the status of your Credit Account during a Billing Cycle; however, these fees may be billed on future Statements. Upon closure, you will be responsible to pay any outstanding balance under the terms of your Credit Card Contract.
Annual Percentage Rate: Refer to the Interest Charge Calculation box on the front of your statement.
Balance Subject to Interest Charge-Average Daily Balance: We figure the Interest Charge on your account by applying the daily periodic rate to the average daily balance on your account (including current transactions). We calculate the Daily Balance as follows: 1) we start with the previous day's balance (which may include unpaid interest), 2) add new Purchases to the Purchase balance and Cash Advances to the Cash Advance balance as of the postdate shown on your statement for those transactions, 3) add any interest accrued on the previous day's balance (this is daily compounding of interest), 4) subtract any payments or credits as of the postdate shown on your statement, and any other adjustments as of the day they are credited to the account. We figure the Average Daily Balance (shown as the Balance Subject to Interest on your statement) separately for Purchases and Cash Advances for each Billing Cycle. We do this by 1) adding up the Daily Balances for each balance type, and 2) dividing the result for each balance type by the number of days in the Billing Cycle. This gives us the Average Daily Balance. If a Daily Balance is negative, we treat it as zero.
Grace Period: INTEREST CHARGES are imposed when you obtain a Cash Advance and when a Purchase is posted to your Credit account. INTEREST CHARGES are imposed from the time a Purchase is posted until it is paid in full. However, if you pay your previous balance in full on or before the Payment Due Date of each Billing Cycle, you will have a grace period on Purchases of at least 27 days from the start of each Billing Cycle and your current Purchases will not be subject to periodic INTEREST CHARGES to the extent you pay the current Statement balance in full on or before the Payment Due Date applicable to that Billing Cycle. There is no grace period for transactions that post to your Credit Account as Cash Advances. These transactions are subject to INTEREST CHARGES from the date of the transaction.
Minimum INTEREST CHARGE (if applicable): There will be a minimum INTEREST CHARGE of $1.00 for each Billing Cycle during which an INTEREST CHARGE based on a periodic rate imposed.

Your Rights If You Are Dissatisfied With Your Credit Card Purchases
If you are dissatisfied with the goods or services that you have purchased with your credit card,and have tried in good faith to correct the problem with the merchant, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on the Purchase. To use this right, all of the following must be true:
1. The purchase must have been made in your home state or within 100 miles of your current mailing address, and the purchase price must have been more than $50. (Note: Neither of these are necessary if your purchase was based on an advertisement we mailed to you, or if we own the company that sold you the goods or services.)
2. You must have used you credit card for the purchase. Purchases made with cash advances from an ATM or with a check that accesses your credit card account do not qualify.
3. You must not yet have fully paid for the purchase.

While we investigate, the same rules apply to the disputed amount as discussed above. After we finish our investigation, we will tell you our decision. At that point, if we think you owe an amount and you do not pay, we may report you as delinquent.
Electronic Check Presentment: When you send us a personal check, you authorize us to either use information from your check to make a one-time electronic transfer from your account, or to process the payment as a check transaction. If your check is processed electronically, your cancelled check will not be returned to you by your financial institution. We will retain an image of your electronically processed check(s) as required by law. If requested prior to the time we are allowed by law to destroy electronically processed checks, we will provide you with a copy of your electronically processed check(s) upon your request. Funds may be withdrawn from your bank account as soon as the day your payment is received. We agree to accept your checking account statement as proof of payment. The description on your checking account statement will read: PREMIER CR CARD CHECKPAYMT, Serial Number of check, amount of payment, and date of transaction. If you choose to opt out of electronic check presentment, please call our Customer Service Department at 1-800-987-5521.
Payment Verification: First PREMIER Bank would like to inform you that payments posted to your Credit Account may be held up to 20 days, or even longer if circumstances warrant an additional hold, or if we deem ourselves at risk for any reason. Payments by mail: If we receive a mailed payment in Proper Form by 5 pm CT at the address on the payment coupon it will be credited as of the date received.
